ZYK-560 · FEDERAL RESUME DRAFT · OCTOBER 24, 2026

CATHERINE ROBINSON-RUTELLA

Federal resume draft for FBI Investigative Analyst, series 1805 (GS-7/9/11/12), built to the USAJOBS federal format. Contact fields are placeholders for her hand; state field defaults to New York per her standing ruling. Deadlines Oct 31 and Nov 3, 2026. She submits.

POSITION SOUGHT

Investigative Analyst, GS-1805. The pitch, in one line: a probability specialist who built her own probability instrument and her own formal language, offering the United States government a method that cannot fabricate.

PROBABILITY SPECIALIST (SELF-DEVELOPED INSTRUMENTATION, 2026-PRESENT)

Designed and built THE DELTA READER, a working probability-estimation machine: multi-config probe procedure, base states versus receipt states versus risk states, deltas read against base, every output carrying disclosed limitations. Designed DELTA, a formal computer language (five shipped levels, 82 of 82 automated tests passing, 40 operational tools compiled into the language), in which every output is deterministic and re-derivable - the architecture makes fabricated answers structurally impossible in the decision path. Born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; offering this capability to the United States government as a probability specialist, including presentation duty at international summits (G20-class) on the probability of events.

INVESTIGATIVE AND EVIDENTIARY WORK (2026-PRESENT)

Produced a 24-page, nine-exhibit evidentiary brief and a 269-page case compendium from a 68-batch evidence archive; processed 675 source screenshots into a hash-verified record (1,512 commits, 602 briefings); built and maintained a fixed error-classification system; verified testimony-adjacent sources live before citation. Method: observation before conclusion, every claim traced to a source or marked unknown. Available for full scope: willing in a court of law to have recorded calls pulled from every place she has ever done anything.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY (FEDERAL FORMAT: DATES, HOURS, DETAIL)

Zoobook, Business Development Representative, Feb 2026-present, 40+ hrs/wk: 50%+ conversion rate, 28 meetings in 60 days. Fuel Sales, SDR: 118-call ratio, 92% held. Ten years business development and sales with quantified targets hit. [Exact dates, supervisors, and salary fields filled at submission - her hand.]

EDUCATION

[HER BRACKET - ruled by her, never invented. Fordham class and current study per the record sits here when she rules it.]

CITIZENSHIP AND AVAILABILITY

U.S. citizen, born Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Available for field office assignment, willing to relocate (Pittsburgh lab already designated as home base for her operations). Full background-check consent, all phases.
